Website Pricing Packages

Proposed content for the website pricing page

The pricing page should use three clear fixed-fee packages: Essential, Standard and Premium. The Standard package should be highlighted as “Most Popular”. Prices are starting points and a tailored quotation can be provided where transaction volumes or complexity are higher.

Clear, Transparent Pricing

Our packages are based on normal levels of activity for each type of business. Where a business has unusually high transaction volumes, multiple bank accounts, complex bookkeeping, several employees, group companies or specialist tax requirements, we'll agree a tailored fixed fee with you in advance.

There are no unexpected hourly bills — you'll know what you're paying before the work begins.

Prices are shown as monthly equivalents and are subject to an initial review of your accounting records and requirements. VAT is added where applicable.

Optional Additional Website Section

Sole Traders & Landlords — From £50 per month

A separate smaller section can be added below the three limited-company packages for sole traders and landlords. This keeps the main package comparison clean while making the pricing page relevant to non-company clients as well.

Notes for Web Designer

- Display the three main packages side by side on desktop and stacked on mobile.
- Highlight Standard as “Most Popular”.
- Use clear tick icons beside included services.
- Give each package a prominent call-to-action button.
- Use “From” pricing rather than presenting the fee as suitable for every client.
- Include the transparent-pricing qualification immediately below the packages.
- Keep the design clean and professional rather than overcrowding each package card.
